Using an AI scribe during your visit

Your clinician uses Scribeable, an AI scribe, to write the notes from your visit. With your permission, it records the conversation and drafts the note, so your clinician can look at you instead of a keyboard. Here is what that means for you.

What is recorded

The sound of the conversation while your clinician has the recording on. No video.

What happens to the recording

It is used only to draft your clinician's note and does not become part of your medical record. There is no option to save it: it is deleted after it is transcribed (within 7 days if it cannot be), or kept on your clinician's phone until they delete the note. A written transcript is kept, encrypted, with your clinician's records.

Your clinician writes the record

The AI drafts. Your clinician reads, corrects and signs the note before it goes into your chart.

Who can see your information

Your care team. Scribeable and the companies it uses to transcribe and draft notes handle it under Business Associate Agreements, the HIPAA contracts that require them to protect it. Scribeable staff open a record only to fix a problem or when the law requires it.

Not used to train AI

Scribeable does not use your health information, or anything made from it, to train AI models. This is written into its agreement with your clinician.

Your privacy rights stay the same

HIPAA and this practice's Notice of Privacy Practices apply to your visit exactly as they do without the AI scribe.

It is your choice, and you can change your mind

You can say no now, or ask us to stop the recording at any point in the visit. Your care will not change. We will write the note the usual way.

YOUR DECISION

- ☐ I agree to my visits being recorded so the AI scribe can draft my clinician's notes. I can withdraw this at any time by telling the practice.
- ☐ I do not agree. Please do not use the AI scribe during my visits.
